

That Hive is Mine!

An Unofficial Minecraft Series | Ned and the Magic Book

This is Ned,
and this is
The Book. One
bee zips past,
and Ned
gazes up at it.

Ned gives chase. The bee zips past
the tall plants,
but it will not stop.

The bees have a nest up in a tall plant. Ned gazes up. 'I smell honey!' he says.

Ned grabs his axe and grins
a big grin.

'Stand back!

The honey is mine!' he yells.

'Stop, Ned!' yells The Book.
'Do not chop the nest! The bees will wake up and sting!'

'Smoke will make the bees
doze,' says The Book. 'Then
take the honey.
No axe, Ned!'

Smoke rises
up to the nest,
and the bees
doze off. Ned stands still with his snips.

Ned snips the nest, and the honey drips and drips. 'It shines!' says Ned. 'Quick, Ned!' says The Book. 'Take it and run!'

Back at home, Ned is at his bench. He makes a nest with blocks and wax.

'This will be a fine home for the bees,' he says.

Ned sets the nest by his home and plants a rose. 'The bees
will like this place,' says The Book.

Ned lifts up the rose and smiles. 'Come with me, bees,' he says. The bees like the rose!

The bees love Ned.
They love him so much! They buzz at him and bump him.
'Get off! Get off!'
yells Ned, and he runs. The Book
winces.

That Hive is Mine!

Meet Ned, a man who loves fruit trees, easy plans, and honey more than almost anything. When one buzzing bee leads him straight to a hive high in the trees, Ned grabs his axe and grins, sure he can just chop his way to the good stuff. But The Book has other ideas about how to get honey without a swarm of angry bees. Will Ned actually listen? Created to align with the UFLI Foundations scope and sequence (Lesson 62: VCe Review 3, VCe Exceptions), this book practises words like 'gaze', 'smoke', 'doze', 'shine', 'mine'.
