

Is a Loop Best?

Jen hangs up
top and the
curly hair drops.
She stretches it.
Ping! It springs
back.

Sis rests on the mat and grins. Such long, flat,
straight hair!

Jen pats the cat
and scratches its chin.

A chum hangs up
top and a chum sits and looks.

Such fun!

Jen checks the big pals.

Such long tails! Not a bend, not a twist.

Jen grips the rail
and steps up.

The steps bend
and twist, and she chants as she steps. Up, up!

Jen sits and rests the chin in the hands.

The cat is a soft ring at Jen's hip. Such a good chum!

Jen looks at a pic. In it, she is up top on the big rock! The track
twists up and up.
Jen is a champ.

Jen picks up the tool to sketch.

Zigzag, zigzag!

It is a botch,
but Jen has a plan.

Jen sketches loops.

Loop, loop, loop!

The sketch is topnotch,
and Jen grins at it.

Jen stands at the big buns.
Such big buns!
Peek! The cat
is at the buns.
Do not munch
a bun, cat!

Jen checks
the buns. She must pick the best bun.
Such a test!

Jen unlatches the hatch. Such good snacks! Curly snacks and straight sticks. She grabs the lot. Chomp, chomp!

Is a Loop Best?

A girl is sure of one thing: curly always beats straight, no question. She checks her cat, hunts for proof everywhere she looks, and even climbs a twisty staircase to test her rule. But when a chum brings snacks that are curly, straight, and everything between, will she stick to her rule or change her mind? Written for Jolly Phonics classrooms (Group 6: ch /ch/), this book practices words like 'chomp', 'sketch', 'munch', 'hatch', 'champ'.
