

AN UNOFFICIAL MINECRAFT SERIES

DR. CAN DO

HOT MY BAKE SHOP

Tom has a bakery
in Canville. He bakes the best buns in all the land. Most of them get sold fast. Tom is so glad.

At sunup, Tom,
Jill and the Mage
find the golem
smashed to bits.
What a mess!
'This is so bad,'
says Jill. 'Who did
this unkind thing?'

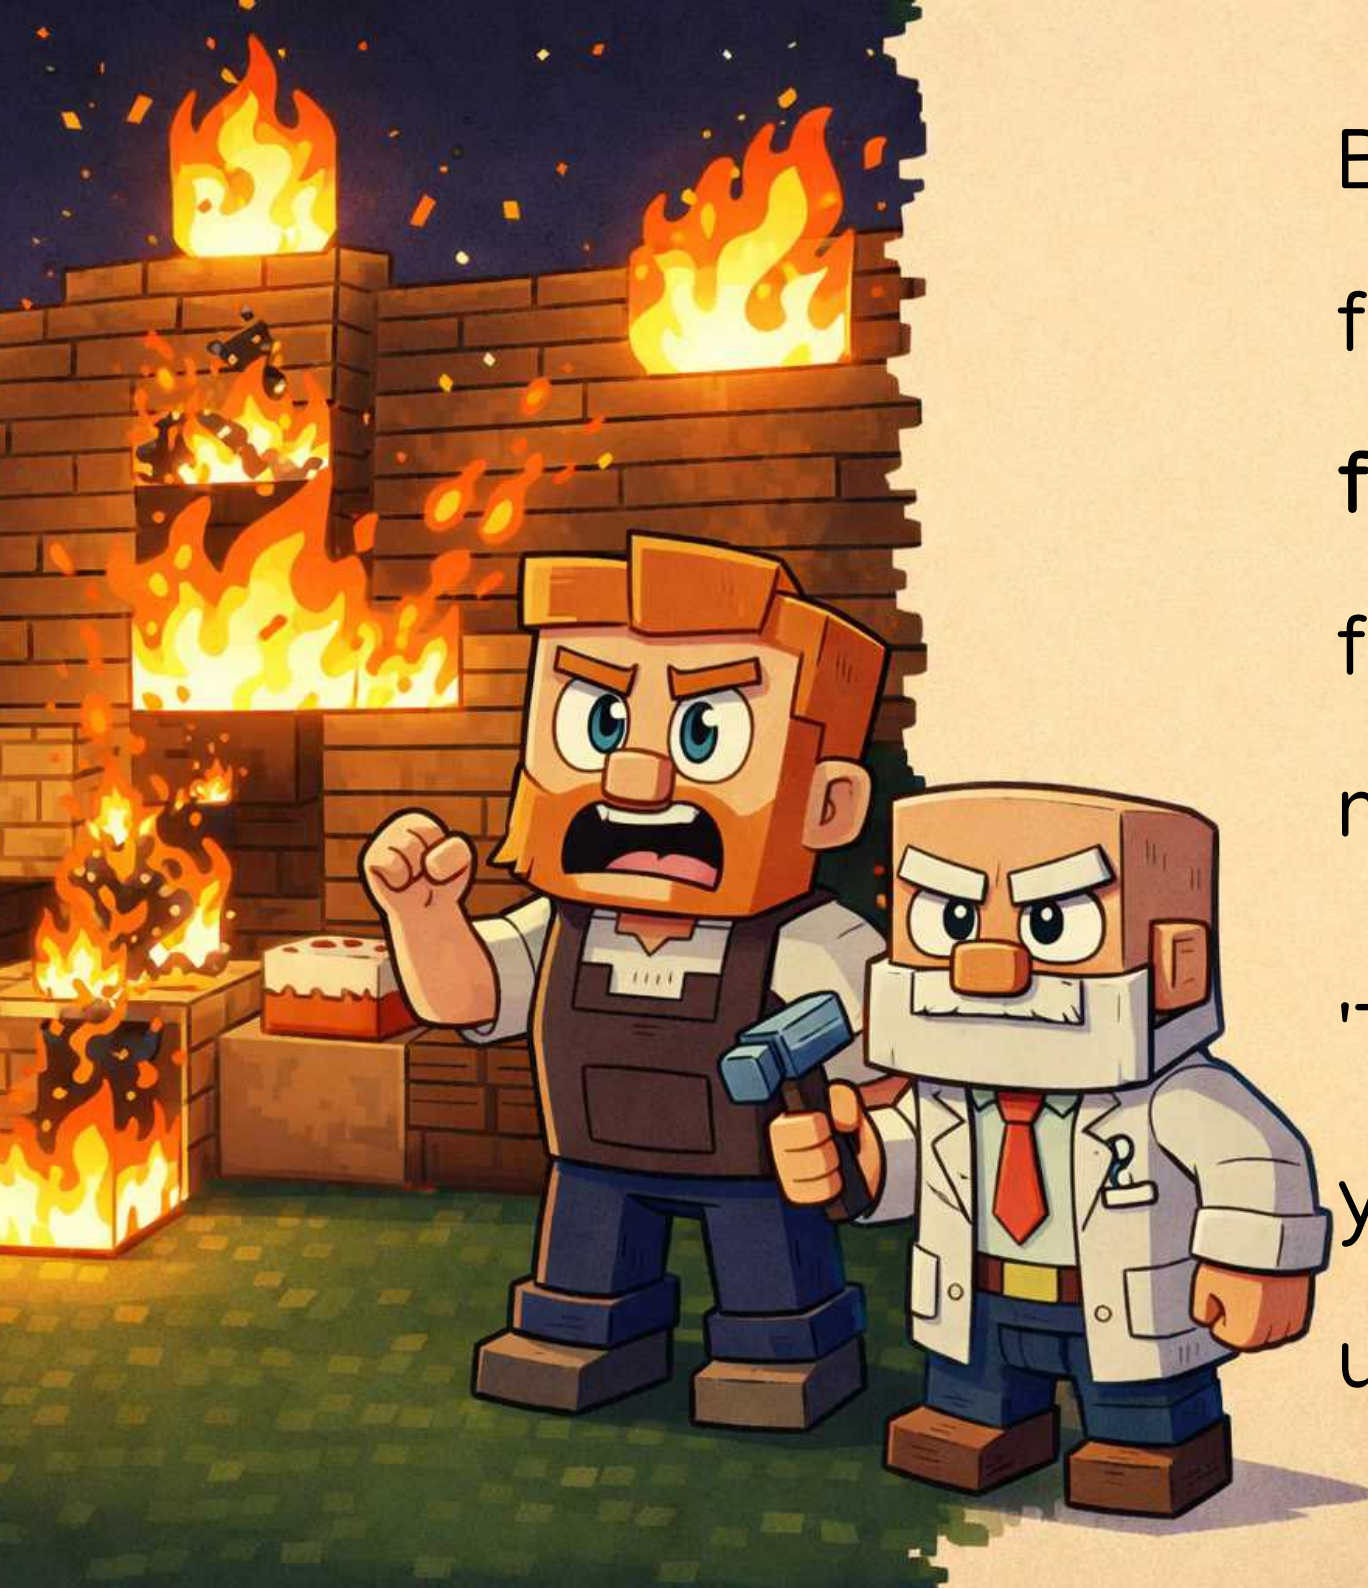

At dusk, Tom can't rest. 'How do the wild mobs get in?' he asks. 'The golems can hold them back,' says Dr. Can Do. 'Be bold, Tom. Do not fuss.'

Tom is in bed, but he can't unwind. His mind is on the wild mobs. They creep and creep, and then... bang!

'Not my bakery,' says Tom. 'Not my bakery.'

Bang! Tom bolts
from his bed. He finds his bakery in flames. He is so mad.

'That is it!' Tom yells. 'I must pack
up and go!'

Jill is kind. 'Do not go, Tom. We must have the bakes!' 'What if we set up a wall on all sides?' says Dr.
Can Do. Tom makes up his mind. 'So be it.
But help me fix my bakery.'

The wall goes up,
stone by stone. It
winds on all sides
of Canville. 'Behold!'
says the Mage. 'No
wild mob can get past this stronghold!'

Tom's new bakery
is the best yet. Jill sets gold and red
plants by it. 'All the land can find the
bakes,' says Jill.
Tom grins. 'And no
wild mobs can get in!'

Not My Bake Shop

Tom the baker makes the best pumpkin pies in Canville, and every night stone golems guard the village while he sleeps. But one morning the golems are smashed to bits, and something is creeping closer in the dark. What is getting past the guards? Created to align with the UFLI Foundations scope and sequence (Lesson 72: Long VCC (-ild, -old, -ind, -olt, -ost)), this book practices words like 'wild', 'find', 'mind', 'behold', 'bold'.

Phonics Focus: Long VCC (-ild/-old/-ind/-olt/-ost)
