

Rock and a Tool

Kip sits at a tree.

He has a rock and a feather. He looks at the rock
and grins.

Look at the rock in the hot sun. It is strong, and it keeps cool.

Kip grips it
and strains.
He pants and
gasps, but it just sits. It is too big!

The rock is a big lump, but the feather is soft.

Kip looks at them both.

Kip lifts the rock up. Ooh, it is a big lump!
But he needs a tool to test it.

Dad zooms
in. He has a good tool.
Kip peeks at
it and grins.

Look! Dad
has a flask.
It can help us test the rock.

Woof, woof!

A big dog
mob sits in a pan. But the pan does not drop.

Ooh, look at the vast orb!
Can we test
it too? It is a big, big orb!

The orb is as big as jugs and jugs and jugs. The sum is too big to add up!

A soft stack
sits in a pan,
and the flask
sits in the rest. Look, the pans sit flat!

An illustration of a rainy day. On the left side, there are several white, fluffy clouds of different sizes. Blue raindrops of various sizes are falling from the clouds. The background is a light blue gradient with some faint, darker blue clouds. The text is positioned on the right side of the image.

Drip, drop! The rain drops and drops.

A wee raindrop is soft, but lots form
a big pool.

Kip sits on the good tool and grins. Soon he can drop them both. We can test it too!

Rock and a Tool

Kip has a rock in one hand and a feather in the other, sure the rock will win the fall. But when his dad shows up with a curious tool, they discover a strange truth about weight, and one small pool of raindrops that adds up to something huge. Can Kip figure out just how heavy heavy really is? Written for Jolly Phonics classrooms (Group 5: oo as in moon & oo as in book), this book practices words like 'look', 'tool', 'pool', 'soon', 'zooms'.
