Dr. Can Do

Stick
Close to Me

It is late. Jill and the pals chat by the wall. 'I must go to the nether,' says Jill. 'I can take us all!' says the Mage with a grin.

Dr. Can Do has a big grin on his face.

'A mob can walk on
a hot red lake!' he says. 'What a chance to see one
up close!'

See the mob on the hot red lake. A big one and a small one.

'Hop on and ride them!' says the Mage. 'I will not ride that,' says Jill.

Jill has a plan.
She lifts a hand
and smiles. 'No
hot red lake for
us,' she says.
'We can make safe paths!'

The Mage stands
by his home and smiles. He is so glad to have pals.

'What a fine time
this will be,' he says.

Jill grips the bucket. 'I made lots of black rock,' she says. 'Now we can make the gate.' Dr. Can Do nods. 'Nice job, Jill,' he says.

It is bedtime, but the Mage can not doze off. He just grins and grins. What a big trip this will be!

The pals stand at the gate. The Mage lifts his staff and casts a spell. Flash! The gate is lit.

'Time to go to the nether!' he says. In they go, side by side.

Stick Close to Me

Jill and her friends are heading into the dangerous Nether, and she needs one very important thing: ancient debris to make a Netherite pickaxe. There is lava everywhere, and a strider stands ready to ride across it, but Jill has another idea. Can she make a safe path instead? Created to align with the UFLI Foundations scope and sequence (Lesson 62: VCe Review 3, VCe Exceptions), this book practices words like 'gate', 'ride', 'smile', 'safe', 'time'.
