

Stop That
Plink!

Chirp, chirp! Pup wants a nap. He flops with a plunk
by his shrub. But the chirps will not stop.

Pup sniffs and
sniffs the grass.
He slinks past a shrub. He hunts
for that chirp.
He must stop it!

Pup bumps smack into Trunk. Is it
Trunk? Trunk
honks. Honk!
Honk! That is not a chirp.

Pup spots a pal with quills. The pal puffs up and hisses at Pup.
Pup blinks. That is not it.

Pup hangs from a branch. He thinks it must be the flock. But the flock just sits still. Not a chirp
from the flock.

Then Pup spots
small bugs on the branch. Chirp! It is the bugs! The bugs
stop, and Pup naps
at last. Thanks,
small bugs!

Stop That Plink!

Pup just wants a nap, but a noisy chirp keeps interrupting! He sniffs through the grass and slinks past a shrub, hunting for the source. He bumps into Trunk, who honks instead of chirping, then meets a prickly pal who makes Pup blink in surprise. Could the real culprit be hiding somewhere Pup hasn't thought to look? Created to align with the UFLI Foundations scope and sequence (Lesson 52: nk /ŋk/), this book practices words like 'trunk', 'honks', 'blinks', 'thinks', 'slinks'.
