

Trust The Tricky Book

An Unofficial Minecraft Series
Ned and the Magic Book

Ned stands by his little shed. 'My
shed is so drab,'
says Ned. 'I wish it
had flowers by it.'

'I have a plan,'
says The Book.

Ned and The Book go up a path. It is a sunny day. 'We must find the odd sand,' says The Book.

Ned finds a big patch of odd
mud in the sand.
He digs at it.
'Yuck, it is so
sticky!' says Ned.

Pop, pop! Little mud balls pop
up. Ned grabs
plenty of them.
He fills all his pockets up.

Ned holds a mud ball by the hot box. The mud gets hot, and then it is a solid red brick!

'It is like a little bit of gold!' says Ned.

The Book opens
up flat. 'Make a pot from the bricks, Ned,'
says The Book.
'It is a simple
plan.'

Ned makes two little pots and
sets them by the
shed. 'The pots
are empty,' says
Ned. 'I must go
find flowers.'

Ned is happy.

He picks plenty
of flowers in
the grass. Then,
buzz, buzz! What is that hum?

The bees are mad! Ned runs and runs. The bees buzz behind
him.

'Run, Ned, run!'
calls The Book.

Ned is safe in the shed. One bee sits on the grass. 'That was a silly plan, Ned,' says The Book. Ned pants and nods.

This time Ned is sly. He picks flowers where no bees buzz. He fills up the pots, and they look so nice. 'Lucky me!' says Ned.

The shed is not drab now. Ned is so happy with his pots. 'Ned, why not make a big home next?' says The Book. 'Yes!' says Ned. 'We can do it!'

Trust The Tricky Book

Ned's shed looks drab, and The Book has a plan involving a beach, blue sand, and something mysterious hiding underneath it. Ned digs up sticky mud balls, bakes them into bricks, and shapes them into little pots, but the flowers he needs to fill them turn out to be guarded by a very grumpy problem of their own. Will Ned's plan for a happy, sunny shed survive plenty of buzzing trouble? Created to align with the UFLI Foundations scope and sequence (Lesson 76: Ending Patterns Review), this book practices words like 'sticky', 'lucky', 'plenty', 'silly', 'empty'.

Learn to read with confidence

The Bookbot app and its carefully designed decodable books help children practise the sounds and words they are learning, building strong phonics and reading skills one step at a time. In the app, children can listen to stories read aloud, follow highlighted words as they are spoken, and read independently when they are ready. Together, the decodable books and oral reading support help develop accuracy, fluency, confidence and a love of reading. Learn more at www.bookbotkids.com.
