

What Did I Sketch?

This is Cal. Cal has
a big sketchpad, and
his sketches are
topnotch.

'Guess what I
sketch!' Cal yells. No
one can guess it.
Not once!

Cal grins and
sketches a big ring.
Then he sketches two
small rings on top.
'Guess what it is!'
says Cal. 'I bet no
one can!'

Look! The sketch
has two big eyes.
The eyes blink up
from the page.
Is it a frog? Cal
says, 'No, no! Not yet!'

Cal fills the big ring
with black strokes.

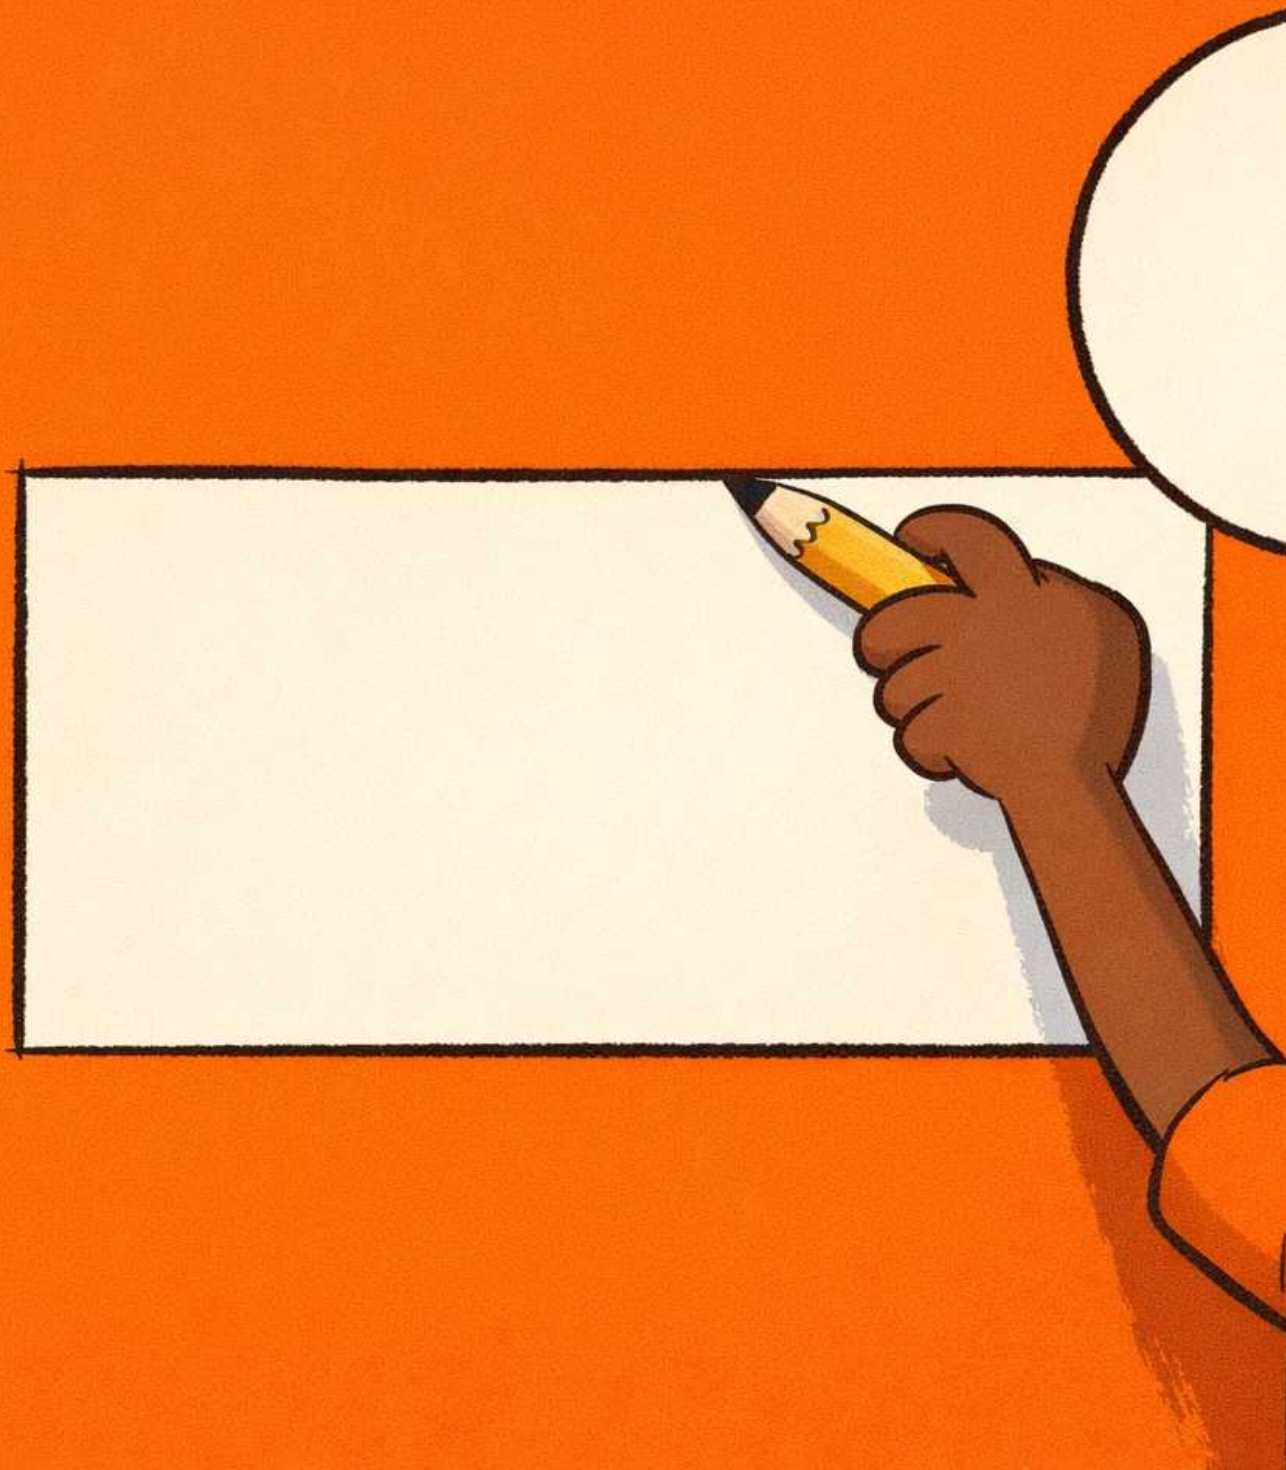

Stroke after stroke,
till it is solid black.

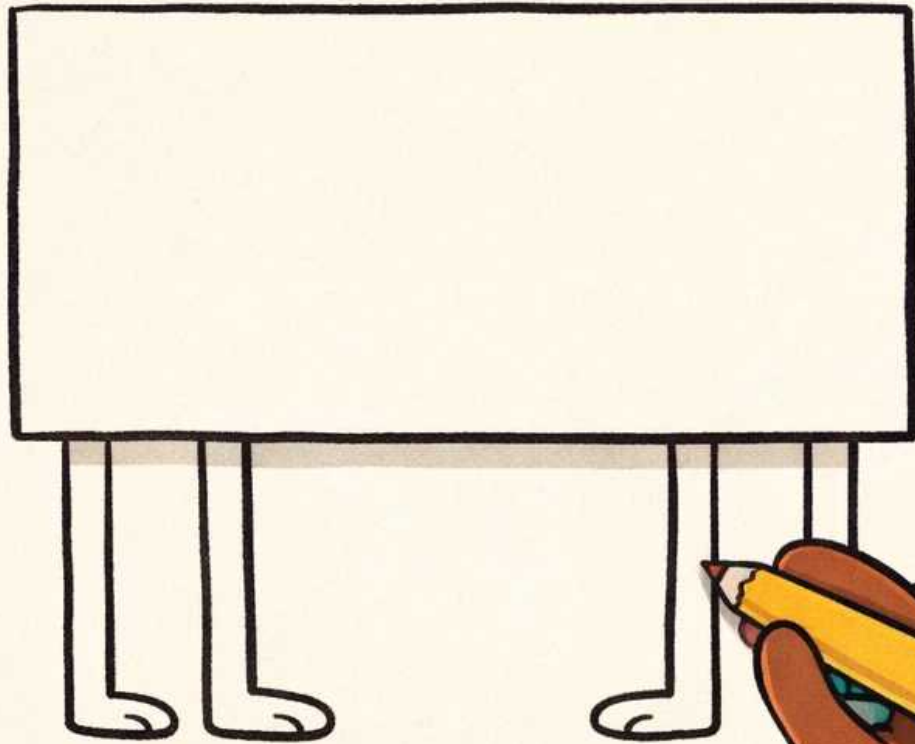

He does not rush.

The strokes must
match.

Next, Cal
sketches a box
shape. A box with big eyes on top?

What pet is like that? Cal just
grins. 'Not yet!'

Then Cal attaches
legs to the box
shape. Small legs
with small flat feet.

The legs match,
side to side. 'See?'
says Cal. 'A
topnotch match!'

Cal checks his laptop. Then he
etches a big, wide
grin on the sketch.

Is it a cat? Cal just smiles. 'Not a cat!'

Cal stands up and grins. 'One last thing to attach,' he says. 'Just one small thing. Then no one can miss it!'

Cal attaches a tail. A tail that
wags and wags!

What pet wags
its tail like that?
Can you guess it?

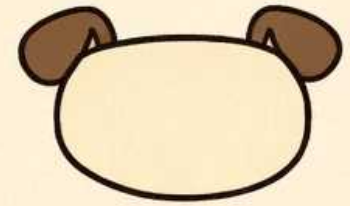

It is a dog! A
topnotch dog with a
big black nose.

See the small lines?
That is soft fuzz.

This is the best dog
Cal has sketched yet!

Can you sketch a dog
like Cal? Sketch small shapes, step by step.
Add the legs, and
attach a tail that wags.
Then hold it up and
yell, 'Guess what I
sketch!'

What Did I Sketch?

Cal loves to sketch, and everyone knows his sketches are topnotch. Every time he starts a new drawing, he grins and says the same thing: "Guess what I sketch!" But no one can ever guess right. Today, Cal picks up his pencil and starts with two big rings and two small ones on top. Big eyes blink up from the page. Is it a frog? A cat? What pet could this be?
