

Wild Vines Topple All!

See the vines! They twist and stretch on the land. A little snail sits on top of the wide leaves.

Vines can go up
a branch and hang on.

Blossoms dangle
from the vine.

A little bug clings
to the stem.

Lots of vines
have crops. A big pumpkin sits on
the land, and pods
hang from a stem.

Tiny golden fruit
rests on the vine.

Vines get big fast! They tangle
on sheds, fences,
and homes.

We must trim the vines, or they take it all.

Thick vines can cling to a big plant. They block
the sun from it.
See the old
plant. It is ill, and it has no leaves.

This vine has little curls. The curls
twist and grip the stakes.

They hold on and
do not budge!

This vine splits in two at the trunk. It can go up both sides!

Two kids sit in the split trunk. They giggle by the vine.

Some vines have crops. Melons
get big and plump on the land. It is sunny
by the crop plot.
A path runs by
the melons.

Some vines hide their crop in the land! Chubby potatoes get big in the mud.
A bug can fly by the vine.

Wild vines can run up a hillside. They tangle on the fence and get close to the home.

We must cut them back, or they take it all!

Vines come in lots of shapes and sizes. Some have fruit, and some have blossoms. Go and try to find many kinds of vines!

Wild Vines Topple All!

Wild vines twist and stretch across the land, and some even split in two at a tree trunk to grow in both directions! Little curls grip on so tight they do not budge, but thick tangles can block the sun and leave an old plant weak and ill. Will anyone manage these wild vines before they take it all? Created to align with the UFLI Foundations scope and sequence (Lesson 76: Ending Patterns Review), this book practices words like 'tangle', 'budge', 'dangle', 'chubby', 'giggle'.
